- 10:00 am - 1:00 pm
- Awbury Arboretum:
6336 Ardleigh St, Philadelphia
(The Farm at Awbury)

New Date!

All the details:

- A BioBlitz is an event where you find and count as many kinds of plants and animals in a specific area over a short period of time.
- We will work with Temple University scientists to get a snapshot of the biodiversity in our city parks.
- We will provide this data to the parks and to a national network - contributing our work to make a difference for science!!
